ERT have professionally qualified teams that are able to use a variety of techniques in order to manage and remove travellers respectfully.

Under common law, every landowner has the right to remove travellers that are illegally occupying commercial or residential land in order to regain possession. There are a variety of ways in which to enforce traveller eviction which depend upon the circumstances, whether it is by common law, civil procedures or the criminal justice and public order act.

At ERT, we have highly qualified and certificated enforcement agents who are able to conduct the eviction of travellers. With an in-depth knowledge of laws and procedure, the ERT team are able to gain possession of your land for you, following all health and safety procedures in place. We are an elite team who are marketing leading within the industry and have an incredibly high success rate with our first-class solutions.
